Rauma IN MOTION a Dance-U-Mentary™ film

Lönström Art Museum - December 12th 2012 – January 20th 2013

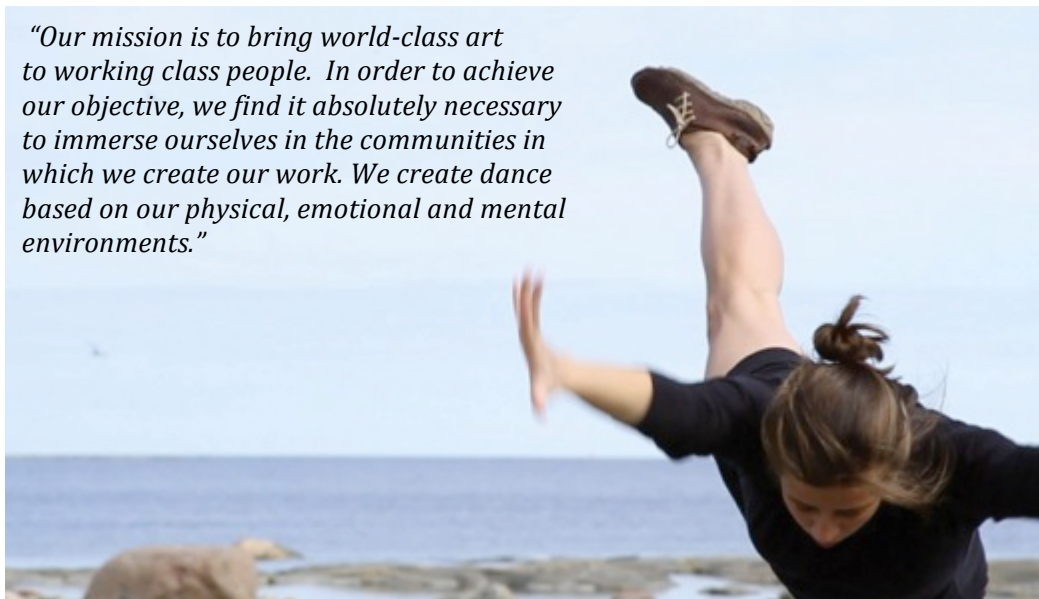

RAUMA, Finland—Orange Grove Dance, directed by Colette Krogol and Matthew Reeves, is presenting a new film Rauma in Motion at the Lönström Art Museum opening on December 12th, 2012 at 6pm. The film will be part of a larger exhibit by Orange Grove Dance inside the Lönström Studio Gallery that will feature additional interviews and video work created by Krogol and Reeves during their residency with RaumArs A.I.R. during May and June of 2012. The exhibit will run from Decemeber 12, 2012 to January 20, 2013. A truly unique film, Rauma in Motion is a new genre of art called Dance-U-Mentary. By using dance and movement within the community, Orange Grove Dance has discovered new ways to capture and document a community, and its story.

Orange Grove Dance blurs the lines between the Art of Dance, Film and everyday life. The film Rauma in Motion was created and conceived by Orange Grove Dance and Rauma community members. Krogol and Reeves took to the streets, sea, schools, studios and forests to document motion and life in a town where the days were growing longer, the grass growing greener, and the bicycles zooming by at all hours of the day. Participating groups from the community included Rauman Naisvoimistelijat, Turun Seudun Tanssioppilaitos, Senioritanssijat (Rauman Kansalliset Seniorit ry), Nummen päiväkoti, and Sampaanalalan päiväkoti. The film is scored by notable American composer Dylan Glatthorn and is focused into 3 sections, Old Rauma, Land and Sea, and People. The exhibition overall provides small windows into Orange Grove Dance's time living among this unique community.

Orange Grove Dance, founded in 2007 by Colette Krogol and Matthew Reeves, is built on the ideals of bringing dance, art and movement to all communities, large and small.
